

Don't let vacation time affect school time.

Thinking of leaving town early for spring break? When your child misses a day of school outside of designated vacation days, your school district loses money. In fact, if every student in Central Texas missed one day of school outside of spring break, school districts would miss out on $12 million.

That's $12 million to fund important school functions, including:

- Extra-curricular activities
- Coaches
- Librarians
- Counselors
- Additional teachers

By keeping your child in school, you're helping to ensure they're getting the most out of their education.
